➔ How to replace Fax machines without disrupting Patient Care

The purchase of Fax machines has now been banned across the NHS. The NHS must now find a replacement form of communication that is modern, secure, reliable, cost effective and an easy means of communication that will avoid any disruption to patient care.

The Solution

For NHS Trusts looking to create a Fax machine free environment there is a simple, cost effective and often overlooked solution – Electronic Fax. OpenText RightFax provides proven and reliable electronic fax and document delivery capabilities, giving healthcare organisations an easy-to-use, easy-to-deploy and affordable way to support the Health Secretary directive, whilst maintaining compliance, streamlining business processes and reducing administrative costs.

How does it work?

Electronic documents are faxed directly from a variety of applications and platforms such as your email client. Inbound faxes are delivered to the recipient's inbox or directly into a workflow and hard copies can be faxes from any Multifunctional device, without the need for a telephone connection. We can install the right solution for your needs, whether that be an on-premise fax server, a hosted server, a cloud based solution or a managed service.
